HOPELESS WRANGLE ON TREATY HOLDS UP SENATE ACTION

Battle Between Lodge Irreconcilables and Hitchcock's Followers Shows No Signs of Ending

Washington, March 19. — At the end of four months of attempts to patch up a compromise, of fruitless speechmaking, conference and political jockeying, the senate was confronted today with precisely the same situation that it faced on November 19, when the peace treaty of Versailles went down to defeat.

A second defeat of the treaty with a coalition of "irreconcilables" and administration Democrats again voting against ratification was regarded as inevitable by leaders of all factions in the long drawnout bitterly contested fight that started weeks before President Wilson presented the treaty to the senate on July 10 last.

A final burst of oratorical pyrotechnics will precede the vote on the resolution of ratification embodying the Lodge reservations which though rewritten. Senator Hitchcock the administration's treaty manager, and his adherents, still refuse to accept.

At the end of another battle which lasted until late last night, an unsuccessful move was made by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, to limit speech making today to an hou for each senator. Senator Hitchcock expressed a willingness that speeches be restricted to half an hour or less. Senator Hoke Smith Democrat, of Georgia, announced his intention of talking for at least an hour today and, as other senators gave notice of further oratorical efforts by them, the efforts of Hitchcock and Reed to choke off unlimited eleventh hour discussion fell by the wayside.

Senator Hitchcock sought unanimous consent to fix 3 o'clock this afternoon for a final vote on ratification but Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, objected.

Unless cloture is again adopted by the necessary two-thirds' vote, no rule of the senate will stand, however, in the way of final action being delayed until tomorrow or next week, by lengthy speeches. The only hope that a final showdown may come unexpectedly is in the fact that most senators are unalterably weary of the treaty and even the most loquacious and argumentative of them may finally tire of a subject about which so many hundreds of thousands of words have been bandied.

Another hitch may also develop in the failure thus far to provide pairs for all absentee senators, although Republican and Democratic leaders are working to so adjust pairs as to overcome this difficulty today so that it will not prevent an agreement being reached for a final vote.

The survey of the county in addition to church facts will also disclose how many dance halls are being operated; how many lodge rooms there are and how many lodges exist. The survey is also to disclose the fact whether this or that community is over-churched or under-churched.

The morning session was occupied entirely by Mr. Johnson in explaining in detail the obejct and purposes of the Interchurch World movement.

Only batters relating to the organization of the county committee occupied the afternoon session.

DALLAS HARTZELL MURDERED IN HOME AT NEWTON FALLS

Relatives here have been apprised of the murder of Dallas Hartzell, aged [illegible] years, at his home in Newton Falls, Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The aged man lived with his nephew, Charles Holcomb.

While the nephe wwas out someone entered the house and struck Mr. Hartzell on the back of the head three times with what is believed to have been the butt of a revolver or a piece of metal, for three ugly wounds were found near the base of the brain. The nephew, Mr. Holcomb, found Mr. Hartzell about 9 o'clock, or about a half hour after he had left him to go out on an errand. It is believed that the murder was committeed for the purpose of robbery, as the victim is reputed to be quite wealthy.

After Mr. Hartzell was discovered by his nephew an ambulance was called and he was rushed immediately to the hospital at Warren, but died soon after reaching the hospital. There is no clue as to the guilty party.

The story as given above was received here by Charles Sweeney, general manager of the Victor Stove company, and a near relative of the deceased. Mrs. D. H. Wharton, 328 Ellsworth avenue, is a sister. Other sisters surviving are the Misses Mabel and Gwendolin Hartzell, of Alliance, and Mrs. Mggaie Taylor, of North Benton.

London, March 19.—(Special.)—A sensation was caused today by the parliamentary notice of Allen C. Edwards, a Liberal, that he will ask Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons Monday whether the government has received information that another uprising has been planned in Ireland to break out on April 5. Mr. Edwards will also ask if the government has received forewarning of local risings at Liverpool, Manchester and Glasgow at the same time, whether German secret service agents are believed behind the movement, and if the navy has seized any arms and ammunition from Germany.

WHAT ALLIES MAY DO AWAY WITH IN TURKEY

Food pedler of Constantinople.
INTERNATIONAL.

Peddling foodstuffs amid the filth and mud of Constantinople streets is one of the health menaces which the Allied Missions propose to do away with. Incidents similar to the one shown in the picture of a peddler cutting the vegetables and letting them lie on the dirty streets are frequently seen in Constantinople.

MANUFACTURERS HAVE SAVED LOCAL ELECTRIC LIGHT SITUATION

Final disposition of electric light troubles in this city was reached when the manufacturers of the city in three or four hours recently raised $15,000, according to the report given by H. O. Nelson last evening following the banquet at the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Nelson was chairman of the committee which went to the Day & Zimmerman headquarters at Philadelphia, Pa., several weeks ago to consult with the officials of the company under whose jurisdiction the local light plant is operated.

Mr. Nelson reviewed the trip to Philadelphia and stated that it was impossible for the company to get more than $75,000 for an addition to the local plant. When the committee returned to this city a campaign was started among the manufacturers and in three or four hours $175,000 had been raised, to be used in increasing the local lighting capacity.

With this fund the spray pond is to be increased and a new turbine boiler is to be installed and other additions which will double the capacity of the local power plant.

Mr. Nelson stated that there were two plans under consideration at the present time—one, the building of an addition to the plant here, and the second, securing a supply of power from an outside source. If the addition to the plant is made here, it will provide for a supply of 2,000 K. W. it was stated, and this would give a surplus which would be sufficient for years to come.

Mr. Nelson stated that he was assisted in this work by R. S. McCulloch, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and E. I. Goldy, city councilman.

HOUSE BUILDING IS NOW UNDER WAY

Report of the house construction in this city was given by R. W. Campbell last evening following the banquet given in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Campbell stated that it was quite difficult to get contractors to bid on the houses because of the scarcity and high prices of lumber and material. Work, he stated, was started on the first 25 houses and that the first 15 of this number were well under way, two of them being partly enclosed.

He also mentioned the plan of 57 lots on the southeast side of town the addition known as the "Trimble addition." Mr. Campbell stated that they intended to go ahead with this improvement by installing city water and sanitary sewers before building would be allowed. Some of the houses in this addition will be constructed by the association. He also stated that any individual who wanted to purchase a lot and construct his own home would be encouraged.

That the association would begin on 25 more new houses just as soon as possible ws the concluding remark of Mr. Campbell.

Old Fashioned Housewarming

A number of friends from Leetonia came to this city Thursday evening and gave to Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Heim an old fashioned housewarming and surprise in their new home on Evans street. Cards and music were the pastimes of the evening and a lunch was served, after which at a late hour the guests departed for their homes. Mrs. W. H. [illegible] of Alliance, was an out-of-town guest.

The company will employ 200 men to start with. The company is capitalized at $500,000. The erection of this plant will give this company a total of 33 kilns, making it the second largest plant making general ware in the United States. The company already has a 15-kiln plant here.

An amendment offered by Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, to the enacting clause or "preamble" of the resolution of ratification by which the nations involved may give silent assent to the reservations was adopted without a roll call.

DR. HILL STRIKES HEAVY BLOWS AT RADICAL TREASON PLOTS

Chancellor of Lincoln Memorial University Before Chamber of Commerce Argues for Loyal Reconstructive Americanism

In one of the best talks which has been heard here in many Moons, John Wesley Hill, of New York city, chancellor of Lincoln Memorial university, addressed the members of the Chamber of Commerce last evening after the luncheon at 6:30. Mr. Hill was roundly applauded many times and volumes of laughter was produced by his witty and humerous comparison of character prominent in the national affairs.

Socialism, bolshevism, anarchy, I. W. W.-ism and all other radical teachings for the overthrow of this government were held up to ridicule and condemnation, and Mr. Hill proved himself the man who could handle this situation to the entire satisfaction of all.

"Socialism is Bolshevism, and when on exhibition it means destruction." Mr. Hill said. "We need a reform plan in the industrial world, but socialism spells revolution. We are all under one flag, which is our guide by day and a pillar of fire by night, and when we lay down our work here and pass it on to the next generation we want to give it over unsullied, unstinted and still floating to the breezes of heaven in all its glory."

In his denunciation of the red radicals in this country who have been trying to overthrow the government and raise the red flag of sedition, he ridiculed the idea of deportation, and asked what criminal did not like to take an excursion trip. Mr. Hill advocated the firing squad for all radicals who advocated the destruction of this government.

"The red flag," he said, "when floating above a little strike, is but the symbol of a little parade which is pointing to the greater parade of revolution. The I. W. W.'s, Bolshevists and anarchists are all traitors to the country who are opposed to the protection of this country and government. I do not believe in deportation of those who attempt to destroy the government. They should be shipped in a boat of stone, equipped with sails of lead, with the wrath of God for a gale, and hell for a port," shouted the speaker. This remark was followed by a long applause.

Mr. Hill took a hefty rap at the Mexican situation and berated the weak-kneed manner in which the present administration had dealt with this very serious problem. Mr. Hill stated that the time was now ripe to substitute Remington rifles for Remington typewriters.

"Protection of the American business man wherever he goes must be recognized by the whole world," the speaker declared. "No matter whether or not he goes to Europe or to Mexico, we want to let them know that our flag is not a spectacular piece of bunting, but the symbol of a power to protect any American citizen anywhere around the globe, and a flag that does not stand for that is not a flag but a rag. My government insists that I give it my support and I have the same right to demand support from my country."

Mr. Hill cited incidents in what he called our expansion of democracy and mentoned an instance which took place in the Philippines and the Venezuela incident in which the Monroe doctrine was menaced. He told how the great presidents, Lincoln, Cleveland and McKinley, had stood firmly for the protection of American rights.

That the United States had risen to such power and prestige is the result of progress. But in progress the speaker said, we should find the medium ground. "There are great empires of industry all around us for us to discover. The time has come when the employer and the worker, labor and capital, must get together. I will leave it to you to plan the method, but you must get together and guarantee progress and save civilization. During the reaction you must avoid revolution. Socialism will never solve the problem, it is joy riding in the dark."

"Abraham Lincoln carried the burden of the world on his shoulders," the speaker continued, "and when he stood at the battlefield of Gettysburg, he proclaimed the rebirth of liberty to the world. Lincoln was not a stand

VAGUE REPORTS SAY MORGAN MOLDERS ARE OUT ON STRIKE

A report prevalent in this city yesterday was to the effect that the molders of the Morgan Engineering company at Alliance are out on strike for an increase in wages. It is said that the strike has been on for several days or possibly a couple of weeks. It is also circulated that guards from Gary, Ind., have been stationed around the foundry, but it could not be determined whether the guards were federal or of some state organization.

There seems to be an air of mystery in connection with the situation. So far as can be determined there had been no publication of a strike in Alliance, but persons who have been traveling back and forth between this city and Alliance have asserted that a strike of the molders at the [illegible] foundry of Morgan company is on.

BALTIMORE IS SCENE OF BLOODY RACE FIGHT

Baltimore, March 19.—(Special.)—In a sensational gun battle which threatened to assume the proportions of a race riot here early today, two policemen were shot and a negro is dying in a hospital with hundreds of wounds in his body inflicted by shotgun fire, and another negro was badly wounded and narrowly escaped lynching, and four other persons were felled by bullets. The trouble started when the negro, who is dying, and the negro who is wounded attacked a white man. The negroes were captured after having shot and badly wounded a policeman. One of the negroes broke away from his captors and barricaded himself in a cellar and held a hundred policemen and scores of firemen and citizens at bay for several hours.

GREAT STORM OF DUST RUINS KANSAS WHEAT

Kansas City, Mo., March 19.—(Special.)—Reports from scattered sections of western Kansas brought the prediction that the worst crop failure in the wheat belt in ten years may result from the great dust storm which for 24 hours has raged unabated through four states.

Business has been practically suspended throughout western Kansas for the past 24 hours. The dust driven by a high wind turned daylight into darkness and impeded traffic everywhere.

Reports from all over the wheat area said that not only had the soil been blown from the young roots but in many places the roots were torn up and carried off by the wind.

CONGRESS TO STAY ON THE JOB

It is now likely that Congress, which had entertained some hopes of being able to adjourn at a date not too far in the future, will be forced to continue in session long into the summer, certainly till after the national nominating conventions. There are several important matters which demand attention, among them being the making up of revenue lost through the Supreme Court decision as to stock dividend income taxes, the providing of a bonus for ex-service men, and the re-arrangement of the general tax system so as to make it more justly fit into reconstruction conditions. These are matters in which so large a part of the people are deeply interested that Congress would not presume to adjourn and its members go home without some adjustment of them. Congress has in the last few years become a continuous body in a much more literal sense than the usually understand legal one which some would have had accepted long ago. When the time comes in the future when we can have a few months without Congress in session it will be a remarkable return to old times.

POLITICAL RANTING IN COURT

In his address yesterday at Grand Rapids before the jury in the Newberry trial Assistant District Attorney Frank G. Dailey told the innocent people of Michigan, and incidentally the rest of us who are on the sidelines, what a terrible condition of creeping, crawling, slinking political corruption exists in Michigan. Mr. Dailey raged and ramped, shrieked and hissed in his pyrotechnic denunciations of the "bunk" and "dust flung in the air" and all the other horrible things which are so apt to upset the dignity of ranting attorneys. Incidentally, not in many years has this country been treated to such a shameful exhibition of partisan persecution as the prosecution in the Newberry case.

THE NAVY BOYS

In all that he has had to say before the committee of Congress which has been looking into naval conditions during the war Admiral Sims has never once reflected on the conduct of the enlisted personnel of the navy. All his criticisms, many of which have been very well founded, have been in relation to the higher command. The Admiral voices the confidence of the whole Nation when he says that the boys in the ranks, so to speak, in the naval service were always ready to do their duty, and did it in spite of many handicaps resulting from blunders in the management. The American soldier and sailor never needs apology when it comes to performance of duty.

The efforts made with more or less zeal from time to time to secure army courtmartial reform are but little benefit to those American boys who are spending from twenty to forty years in prison for having stuck out their tongues at the lieutenant instead of at the regimental surgeon. Is the country going to forget these young fellows who are suffering such tremendous penalties for such slight offenses?

Premier Lloyd George gave a pledge to India that the Sultan would not be driven from Constantinople. This was to stop a possible Mohammedan uprising in India. And one can not help wondering just why the United States should be mixed up very much in these religio-imperial controversies.

Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, leading Democrat, who tried to see the President about the treaty and got no farther than the chill, cold doorsteps, also knows that the only real obstacle to ratification of the peace treaty with sane reservations is President Wilson.

It is suggested that if Mr. Burleson wishes to run for President the slogan of his campaign should be: "He kept us out of mail." But then some people are always inclined to be mean when it comes to commenting on public men.

The fact that one Senator has called another "a brass monkey" shows that affairs in the Senate are beginning to get back to a normal state.

Cannot Praise this Remedy too Highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS

Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA.

You can buy PE-RU-NA any where in either tablet or liquid form.

Speaking of the fitness in name,

DR. HILL

patter, but he was a sure stepper, and that is what we must have now, sure stepping, and we must see to it that the red flag is not raised, no matter under what name."

Mr. Hill touched lightly on the present political situation. n enumerating some of the candidates for office he said that Herbert Hoover might be the next president if he could find out which party he belonged to. He said that may be by the next time he returned to Salem Warren G. Harding would be the next president of the United States. He stated that he had more love for the Democrats than the Republicans, because they needed it more.

"But it does not make any difference what political party gets in power, just so long as that party has the proper respect and love for the American flag."

The speaker denounced that theory of certain people of the country who teach "Christian socialism," and those who say that they believe a little in socialism because it stands for a reform. "To call it Christian socialism," said the speaker, "you might as well say Christian polygamy, Christian robbery, as to talk about Christian socialism. It was born in hell and there is written across the face of it 'Made in Germany,' and God only knows where Germany was made. Socialism stands for economic determination."

In beginning his address Mr. Hill referred to his early experiences and told of a meeting at Ada, Ohio, when he met the late J. T. Brooks of this city in his private car, and of the inspiration he received from him to reach out and gain the big things of the world. He attributes his success to the inspiration he received from this one time prominent citizen of Salem.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

LESSON IN FRANKLIN'S LIFE

Great American Statesman and Patriot Rose to Immortal Fame From Humble Beginnings.

On the 17th of January, in 1706, Benjamin Franklin was born at Boston. His father was a soap and candlemaker, his mother, the daughter of a Quaker poet of Nantucket. When Benjamin was ten he was taken from school and set to work in his father's factory. He never again attended a regular school, yet he became a scholar. He was inept and unhappy at his first occupation, so his father apprenticed him to his brother to learn the trade of a printer. When he was seventeen he ran away from his brother and opened a printing office in Philadelphia. He pursued the career of printer and publisher until 1736, when he was made clerk of the Pennsylvania assembly. This was the beginning of his public career, and he rose steadily until he became one of the most striking figures in America. In France, when he was sent there as ambassador after the Revolutionary war, he became as widely known and loved as in his own country.

The colonel of a negro regiment in France charged the adjutant with selecting a suitable soldier to serve as orderly at his billet. The adjutant combed the command for the proper man and finally found one who had been an elevator boy in a hotel—a smiling, gracious darkey, neat and respectful.

When the man reported the colonel impressed upon him the necessity for tact.

"Do you know just what I mean by tact?" he asked.

"Yas, suh. W'en it comes to tac' I'se right on de spot. Why, cunnel, jus' las' week I went into the bathhouse near mah billet, an' foun' one of de madamselles there. I jest stepped back an' says, 'Pardon, monsieur!' Now ef dat warn't tac' den I don't know what is."

One Hundred Members Present

One hundred members, some of them from Alliance and Columbiana, participated in the masquerade party and enjoyed the banquet, which was a feature, given by Salem review No. 338, Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, at the hall on Main street Thursday evening in celebration of its twenty-second anniversary.

Various kinds of costumes were worn by the merry-makers and a good social time with dancing was enjoyed until 9:30 when there was a grand march to the dining room. The banquet table was made beautiful with the review colors, red, black and white, and blooming potted plants helped to carry out the color scheme. After the repast the company enjoyed social diversions and a short meeting was held. A centerpiece given away was won by Mrs. Eli Fults.

—o—

Missionary Circle Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Girls' Missionary circle of the Christian church was held at the church Thursday evening. Rev. Victrola music and a general good time occupied the evening and the honor guest was presented with a gift.

—o—

LESSON IN FRANKLIN'S LIFE

Great American Statesman and Patriot Rose to Immortal Fame From Humble Beginnings.

On the 17th of January, in 1706, Benjamin Franklin was born at Boston. His father was a soap and candle-maker, his mother, the daughter of a Quaker poet of Nantucket. When Benjamin was ten he was taken from school and set to work in his father's factory. He never again attended a regular school, yet he became a scholar. He was inept and unhappy at his first occupation, so his father apprenticed him to his brother to learn the trade of a printer. When he was seventeen he ran away from his brother and opened a printing office in Philadelphia. He pursued the career of printer and publisher until 1736, when he was made clerk of the Pennsylvania assembly. This was the beginning of his public career, and he rose steadily until he became one of the most striking figures in America. In France, when he was sent there as ambassador after the Revolutionary war, he became as widely known and loved as in his own country.

WARNS NATION OF RED PERIL

U. S. Department of Justice Urges Americans to Guard Against Bolshevism Menace.

CALLS RED PLANS CRIMINAL

Press, Church, Schools, Labor Unions and Civic Bodies Called Upon to Teach True Purpose of Bolshevist Propaganda.

Washington.—Calling for the patriotic support of all true Americans in its fight to protect their homes, religion and property from the spreading menace of Bolshevism, the United States Department of Justice has issued a warning against the insidious propaganda of the "Reds" during the new year. It reads:

"It would be extremely helpful to the cause of good government, the maintenance of law and order and the preservation of peace and happiness in our country if the people on this New Year's day would resolve to study, understand and appreciate the so-called 'Red' movement. They can counteract it most effectively by teaching its purpose through the press, the church, the schools, patriotic organizations and labor unions, all of which are within the range of its insidious attacks.

"Red" Theories Criminal.

"The 'Red' movement does not mean an attitude of protest against alleged defects in our present political and economic organization of society. It does not represent the radicalism of progress. It represents a specific doctrine—namely, the introduction of dictatorships the world over by force and violence. It is not a movement of liberty-loving persons, but a distinctly criminal and dishonest movement. Lenine himself made the statement at the Third Soviet Conference, 'Among one hundred so-called Bolshevists there is one real Bolshevik, thirty-nine criminals and sixty fools.' It advocates the destruction of all ownership in property, the destruction of all religion and belief in God. It is a movement organized against Democracy and in favor of the power of the few built by force. Bolshevism, syndicalism, the Soviet Government, sabotage, etc., are only names for old theories of violence and criminality.

Russian Labor Crushed.

"Though their adherents in this country are advocating and fomenting strikes, Lenine and Trotzky forbid strikes, and trade unions are being broken up and completely subordinated to the will of the few demagogues in control in Russia. This Bolshevist experiment on the living body of the Russian people has not proven in any sense of the word an experiment in Democracy. The Bolshevist leaders frankly repudiate democratic principles as we understand them. It has been a gamble which meant for Russia, and, indeed, for the whole of humanity, enormous losses in lives as well as in material resources. The Bolshevists have run up a colossal bill which the Russian workmen and peasants will have to pay.

"Reds" Menace America.

"Having lived at the expense of the Russian people for two years, these speculators in human lives and other people's earnings are trying to move to new fields to the east and to the west, hoping to take advantage of the economic distress and confusion of mind in which humanity finds itself after the terrific strain of five years of war.

"Its sympathizers in this country are composed chiefly of criminals, mistaken idealists, social bigots and many unfortunate men and women suffering with varying forms of hyperesthesia. They are enemies of the government, of the church and of the home and advocate principles which mean the abolition of all three of these safeguards of civilization.

Would Rob Everybody.

"Twenty million people in this country own Liberty Bonds. These the 'Reds' propose to take away; 9,830,000 people in the United States own farms and 3,838,000 more own homes, which they would forfeit; 11,000,000 odd people have savings accounts in savings banks and 18,000,000 people have deposits in our national banks, at which they aim. There are hundreds of thousands of churches and religious institutions, all of which they would abolish. In other words, 110,000,000 hard working and saving people who own property, love liberty and worship God are asked to abandon all the ideals of religion, liberty and government, which are the outcome of the struggles of their fathers and their own development, and to place themselves, their homes, their family and their religious faith in the keeping and their property under the domination of a small group of Lenines and Trotzkys.

Protection Promised.

"This department, as far as existing laws allow, intends during the forthcoming year to keep up an unflinching, persistent, aggressive warfare against any movement, no matter how cloaked or dissembled, having for its purpose either the promulgation of these ideas or the excitation of sympathy for those who spread them. The movement will not be permitted to go far enough in this country to disturb our peace and well-being or create any widespread distrust of the people's government. It will fall away before the light of popular knowledge and appreciation of its aims and purposes."

Opera Musical Numbers Attractive

Musical numbers for the opera, "The Lass of Limerick Town," are of a most attractive nature and the soloists and choruses will be accompanied by the Hundertmarck-Bartholomew orchestra, which adds much to the music. Among the numbers to be given are:

Chorus, "Lads And Lassies"; duet, "Tick-Tock"; song, "Was Ever Fate So Cruel As Mine;" chorus, "Betty is a Darling"; quintet, "Hey Diddle Diddle"; song, "Ireland, Dear, My Heart's For You"; chorus, "Watch Him Greet His Bride To-Be". These are but a few of the many catchy selections.

Between acts Miss Beatrice Havelock will dance the "Highland Fling" in Scotch costume.

COLD STORAGE AFFECTS PRICES

INTERESTING FACTS DISCLOSED BY FEDERAL BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

BUTTER COSTS THE SUBJECT

Figures Are Given Out on the Storing, Withdrawal and Prices of That Food in the United States During Two Seasons.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The federal bureau of statistics has been making further inquiries with respect to the cold storage business. It tells us that the storage season for butter may be said to begin in May and end in April. Storage holdings are increased during May, June, July and August, and hence these months are known as "storing months." Storage holdings are decreased during the months from September to April, inclusive. These months are known as "distributing months." September is sometimes a storing month if the season is late. The largest amount held in storage on the first of any month during a season is known as the "peak load" for the season. About three-fourths of the peak load is stored during June and July; most of the distribution is within the months of October to March, inclusive. About one-fourth of the peak load is usually withdrawn during December.

On May 1, 1917, at the beginning of the 1917-18 season, there were a little over 2,500,000 pounds of butter in storage. During the months of May to October storage holdings showed a net increase of a little over 103,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these months was 39.5 cents. During June and July the net amount stored was almost 77,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these two months was 37.9 cents.

Withdrawal Boosted Prices.

From October 1 to May 1, 1918, there was a net withdrawal from storage of 96,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price during these months was 45.5 cents. In December there was a net decrease in storage holdings of 30,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price in December was 48.1 cents. During the storing months of this season, exports of butter totaled a little over 2,000,000 pounds and imports about 419,000 pounds. During the distributing months exports totaled over 14,500,000 pounds and imports almost 1,500,000.

By proclamation of July 9, 1917, the export of butter was prohibited except by virtue of a special license. Butter was included in the presidential license proclamations of October 8, 1917, and January 10, 1918. It was in the list of restricted imports April 22, 1918. During the period from May, 1917, to April, 1918, the average differential between wholesale and retail prices was 5 cents.

On May 1, 1918, at the beginning of the 1918-19 season, there were a little over 10,000,000 pounds in storage. During the months from May until September storage holdings showed a net increase of slightly over 91,000,000 pounds. The total production from May until September was 372,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these months was 42.9 cents. During June and July the net increase in storage holdings was 76,000,000 pounds. The total production for these two months was approximately 202,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these two months was 42.6 cents. The movement into storage of such a large proportion of the amount produced prevented a glutted market and a consequent decline in price. From September until May, 1919, there was a net withdrawal from storage of 92,000,000 pounds. The average wholesale price for these months was 58.7 cents. During December there was a net withdrawal of a little more than 20,500,000 pounds. The average wholesale price in December was 67 cents.

Fluctuations During Winter.

In December the wholesale price advanced another 6 cents and the retail price 7 cents, although production was practically the same as in November, and there was a net decrease of 20,000,000 pounds in the amount in storage. During December, however, 3,000,000 pounds were exported.

The wholesale price for January, 1919, was 62 cents; for February, 49 cents, and for March, 60 cents. The amount produced in February was almost 7,000,000 pounds less than in January. During February, however, there was a net decrease in cold storage holdings of 12,500,000 pounds, which was greater by 5,000,000 than the net decrease during January. The wholesale price in April was 62 cents. During this month storage holdings showed a net decrease of 2,000,000 pounds, but over 8,000,000 pounds were exported. During the season 1918-19 the average differential between the wholesale and retail price was 5 cents, approximately the same as for the 1917-18 season.

The 1919-20 season will not be completed until May 1. On May 1, 1919, at the beginning of the season, there were approximately 9,500,000 pounds in storage. During May, June and July, 1919, production increased. From May until August there was a great decrease in the amount exported.

COSTS MONEY TO RUN ZOO

Pets of Londoners Are Really Expensive Propositions in the Feeding Line.

How much does it cost now to feed an elephant for a year? Two thousand dollars, say the officials of the London zoo. And a giraffe costs half as much. So that, with the increased prices of food, have come new problems for the keepers of menageries. The meat foods include beef, horse flesh, guinea pigs, rats, cats, mice, rabbits, frogs, snakes, fish, pigeons, ducks, sparrows, gentles, snails, ants and cod liver oil. The gazelles, buffaloes and antelopes must be provided with rock salt. They are fed on oats, bran, hay, green clover, together with carrots and potatoes. The birds are the most difficult to feed satisfactorily. Flamingoes, for instance, require soaked wheat, boiled shrimps and fish cut small. Some birds are fed largely on bullock's liver. This is cut into slices, boiled, then put through a mincing machine. The mince is dried in a slow oven and preserved. The dry mince is usually mixed with bran or pollard. Quantities of insects have to be kept in stock for the insect-eating birds. These are principally meal worms and gentles, which is the polite name for meat maggots. But for some birds flies and grasshoppers are required. The monkeys require fruit, such as bananas and apples, while the snakes must be fed on small animals, such as rabbits, mice and rats.

Synthetic Vinegar and Acetic Acid.

Acetic acid is now used in great quantities in making acetate of cellulose for airships. Before the war this was obtained by distilling wood, but it no longer suffices. A synthetic way of making acetic acid was discovered and now the price is much lower than it used to be.

The process is simple; it calls for the production of acetic aldehyde by a reaction of water with acetylene, and the oxidation of the aldehyde gives acetic acid.

Three French companies are now using this process and La Nature says they bid fair to drive the distillers of wood out of the field, even planning to produce a synthetic vinegar that shall be much cheaper than the natural article.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

MUSTEROLE WILL NOT BLISTER

FORMER MAYOR INDORSES TANLAC

"You Will Hardly Know Me When We Meet Again; For I Am Getting Well," He Writes Friend

One of the latest additons to the list of readers of thought and action who have come forward with their unqualified endorsement of Tanlac is the name of Hon. Frank V. Evans, former Mayor of Birmingham, Ala., ex-State Examiner of Public Accounts of Alabama, and at one time editor of one of the South's greatest newspapers, The Birmingham Age-Herald.

Writing to a personal friend in Atlanta Mr. Evans says:

"Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 2

"* * * * * By the way, you will hardly know me when we meet again, because I am getting so well and strong again. As I told you in Atlanta last month, I have been suffering a long time with gastritis, as the doctors call it really a disordered stomach with consequent constipation, pains in the shoulders, headache, belching, heartburn, loss of appetite, loss of sleep and fainting spells. For weeks I could not sleep on my back.

"One week ago; upon recommendation of friends who had tried the medicine, I purchased one bottle of Tanlac and began taking it. Since my second dose I have suffered none of these troubles to which I refer, and really believe I am going to get perfectly well and strong again. Won't that be wonderful at my age? Well, certain it is that Tanlac is a wonderful medicine, and you know I am not giving to 'puffing' mere experiments and am rather orthodox as to materia medica.

"I shall continue the treatment with perfect confidence in the final results."

(Signed) "FRANK V. EVANS."

Tanlac is sold in Salem by Bolger & French.

Dog Saves Feline Chum.

Deuce, an Irish terrier, proved at a fire in the pet shop at 270 Livingston street, Brooklyn, that the term "cat and dog life" sometimes means the opposite of hate, combat and commotion. Deuce had been living in amity with seven blooded cats in the shop for several weeks. When the fire started he saved himself, and then watched the firemen rescue the cats. Apparently he counted them, for when the men stopped rescue work after bringing out the sixth he dashed into the burning shop and came out carrying the seventh by the scruff of its neck. Deuce had to open a cage to do it. When he released the cat on the sidewalk, the latter purred and rubbed against his legs, until the shop owner gathered up both animals and took them away.

WORLD'S LARGEST UNCUT GEM

"Black Opal," Found in Nevada in 1917, Was a Quarter the Size of a Brick.

What is believed to be the largest uncut gem in the world has come to light in a recently opened mining district in Nevada, where it was discovered in the spring of 1917. The stone is a "black opal," so-called because dark tones predominate in it. It shows mostly dark peacock blues and emerald greens, with a considerable amount of red, and several less prominent shades.

In size this great gem approaches a quarter of an ordinary brick, being three and fifteen-sixteenths inches in length, three and one-eighth in width, and two and one-eighth thick at the bulkiest point. Its weight is eighteen and six-tenths avoirdupois ounces, which expressed in gem diction is 8,136 grains, or 2,566.56 carats. More than a pound of opal is surely some stone! And it is all solid, uncracked, flawless gem material, free from matrix or adhering rock except for a paper thin skin encrusting the two major surfaces. Little specks broken from this skin here and there reveal the brilliant play of colors within while the exposed ends and edge exhibit the full refracting radiance of the mass.

This stone is about half again as large as the largest of the noted gems of the world. The Cullinan diamond was roughly the size and shape of a small fist, and, if it had been an opal, would have weighed but 1,729 carats. It is compared with the new opal on this basis since the specific gravity of the diamond is 75 per cent greater than that of the opal.—Archie Rice in the Scientific American.

IT FELT LIKE MY BACK WOULD BREAK

Dull, aching pains over kidneys, pains in joints and muscles made life miserable for this Canton man.

The great root and herb remedy Dreco was quick in wiping away all his troubles.

"I've stayed on my job many a time with my back aching like it would break," said Mr. Clark Turner, a bricklayer who lives at 1001 Lawrence Road, Canton, O.

"I think my kidneys were at fault, but no medicine I ever took helped me much. Every turn or movement gave me pain, and bending over or lifting anything heavy was specially painful.

"I also had a bad case of stomach trouble. After eating I'd have a full, heavy feeling and would belch gas. My bowels were constipated and my liver lazy, which gave me a tired, dull feeling every morning, making me grouchy. I was often dizzy and could see spots dancing before my eyes. My tongue was coated and breath foul.

"After taking Dreco I am happy to report a great change in my feelings. I can eat anything I want with no fear of gas or bloating as my stomach digests anything perfectly. I know my liver has been cleaned off thoroughly for those headaches, dizzy spells, tired, dull, grouchy feeling of mornings have gone, and I get up fresh and full of energy, ready for big work. The backache has been entirely relieved and the soreness in the joints and muscles gone. I believe in Dreco very strong, and have induced several friends to take it on account of what it did for me."

All good druggists sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in this city by J. H. Lease Drug Co. and Floding's Drug Store.

DON'T BE A "MISERY-FACTORY"

Stop Headaches, Bilious Spells, Colds and Constipation with "Cascarets"—Ideal Physic!

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds.

Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely shocking your insides every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil or violent Pills?

Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels which is now keeping you in constant misery. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience and Cascarets cost so little too.

Depressing "Flying Dream."

In the flying dream, you suddenly leap off your feet and undergo the experience of rising to great heights and skimming over innumerable objects. If the dream only embraces this and nothing more, it may be taken to augur some kind of a surprise, usually of a more or less pleasant nature; but if, as so often happens, one imagines one flies to escape some peculiarly evil presence, then the dream may be regarded as a warning against some sinister person or plot. Flying dreams generally occur to people with marked psychic tendencies.

Painter's Fame Came Slowly.

August Renoir, seventy-eight years old, the famous French impressionist, died recently at Cagnes, France, on the day that his picture of the Pont Neff fetched 100,000 francs at an art sale. In his youth he often paid for his dinner with a picture. Renoir was one of the first of the impressionists. He worked to the last, and died with his palette in his hands. "I feel I am just beginning to know my trade," he said when he was well over seventy.

In Woman's Realm Today

Faithfulness Rewarded

However humble our work may be, it pays, although not always in dollars and cents in the consciousness of having done our best, to do that work well. Faithfulness in little tasks, though they be obscure, only prove that we will be fitted for the bigger places in life when opportunity knocks at our door.

Miss Agnes McNevin is a striking example of faithfulness in household duties and she was well rewarded. When a young girl she called at the home of Mrs. Knight in the Roxbury section of Boston, and was engaged as housemaid. She performed her duties so faithfully that she was advanced to the position of housekeeper. When Mr. Knight died she became the companion of his widow and took perfect care of her until she died a short time ago. When the will was read it was revealed that Mrs. Knight had left to Miss McNevin $250,000 including the beautiful home in the choice city district. Too often housework has been looked down upon as below most callings open to women, in rank and pay, when in reality it is above many of the more popular.

There was once a man who never lied t ohis wife. He died a bachelor.

I don't see how any woman can hope to run for president with skirts as tight as they are now.

Home Made Talcum

Take one part boracic acid and three parts corn starch and a few drops of your favorite toilet water or perfume, and sift several times. Then put it in cans.

What Women Are Doing

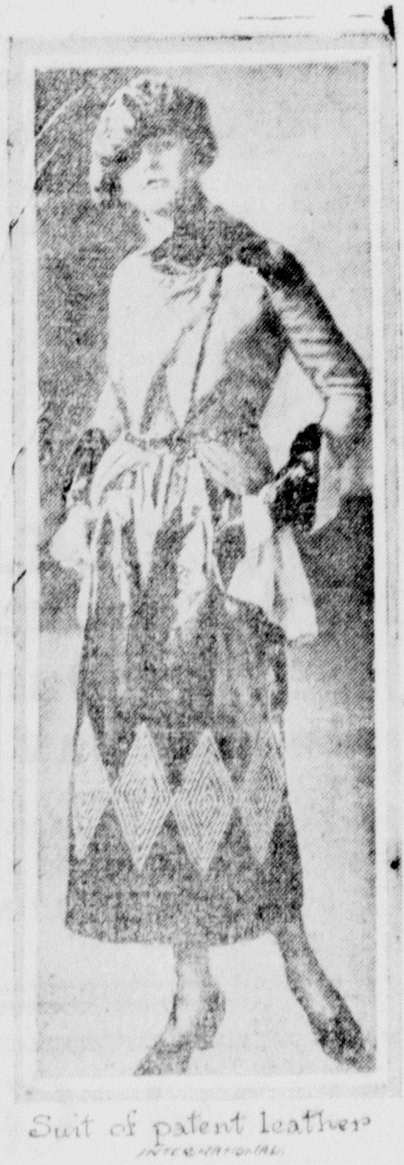
The first woman in the country to be honored by the Democrats is Mrs. A. B. Pyke, of Lakewood, Ohio, who has been appointed to attend the national Democratic convention. Since her appointment other women have been named but she holds the distinction of having been first. So far, Mrs. Pyke is the only woman in Ohio who will attend the convention in an official capacity.

The Salvation Army in the British Isles, working in co-operation with the government, is promoting emigration of approximately 1,250,000 women in excess of the male population there, Commissioner David C. Lamb, London foreign secretary of the army, on a mission to the United States has announced.

Mrs. Zella Hart Deming, publisher of an Ohio newspaper and the only woman member of the Associated Press, has just returned from the far east, where she has made a personal investigation of conditions.

Fashions

Frocks with low necks, short sleeves and short skirts are featuring the spring fashion shows. But now comes the disturbing word that Paris, after sending her ideas as to sleeves, skirts and the like over here, has changed her mind and is now advocating long tight sleeves and high necks. Not only are high necks predicted, but the huge neck ruffs of long ago are actually being worn in France and England.



ALL PATENT LEATHER SPORT SKIRT

A most unique and striking costume is this suit of black patent leather, with yellow stitching. It is topped with a short coat of duvetyn, the trimming of which is black patent leather with black stitching. The combination is both unusual and attractive.

They tell us the effects in white and in black and white are seen on the Paris boulevards in greater numbers than any other colors.

Taffetas and satins are most popular for the between season's frock, although tricolettes and georgettes are also much favored.

Despite the alleged scarcity of leather and its high price it has been introduced for women's coats and hats as an ornamentation for their gowns.

An Inexpensive Salad

Carrots are said to be very healthy, and they are very palatable when grated and served with lettuce and mayonnaise dressing.

OUR TESTED RECIPE

Parkerhouse Rolls

Ingredients—Two quarts flour; one pint milk, measured after boiling; butter the size of an egg; one tablespoonful of sugar; one cake yeast; a little salt. Make a hole in the flour, and add in the following order the sugar, salt, butter, milk, yeast. Do not stir. If set at night, place in a cool place until 10 o'clock the next morning, then mix all together and knead fifteen minutes by the clock. Put again in a cool place until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, then cut out into rolls, place each one apart from its neighbor in the pan, set in a warm place, and when ready for them bake fifteen minutes.

Women's Occupations

Chicago, March 19—How great a weight should a woman be permitted to lift? What occupations are dangerous for women? How much time is needed for the lunch period?

These are a few of the many problems confronting the employers of 12,000,000 women in the United States which are to receive the attention of the Women in Industry section of the National Safety council during the ensuing year, in accordance with a decision of the executive committee, it is announced at the headquarters of the council here.

The program of activities for this section presented by its chairman, Miss Tracy Copp, formerly of the Wisconsin industrial commission, was introduced by the following statement of the problem:

"From the employer's standpoint, the problem is to so order the work performed by women and to so regulate the conditions under which they shall work that a maximum of production may be attained without the impairment of health and efficiency of the women workers."

ORGANIZER OPENS AMERICAN MECHANICS COUNCIL CHARTER

Deputy Organizer J. S. Snyder, of Lisbon, for the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, was in this city yesterday in the interest of organizing a local council of that fraternal order. The Junior Order of United American Mechanics is widely known over this country and has the reputation of being a leading patriotic and fraternal organization.

The charter for this lodge was opened here yesterday and a number of signatures have been secured. The charter will be open for some time and efforts are being made to secure a big membership for the Salem local.

It is planned to secure suitable quarters for lodge rooms in this city as soon as the prescribed number of members are secured to start it. After that, regular meetings of the organization will be held here.

In conversation with a number of local persons here, Mr. Snyder stated that he was well received and found that a number of local persons were interested in the organization of this lodge.

New York—A conference of strikers and ship owners will be called here today in the strike of 6,000 longshoremen and allied workers.

Artificial Tree for Birds.

Dr. H. B. Warren is having a concrete tree built on his lawn at West Chester, Pa., to provide homes for birds. The tree is upon a wire frame 15 feet high. Holes of different sizes will lure the birds to meet and rest. At the base of the tree will be a large concrete bath to provide the guests with running water at all times. Imitation limbs on the "tree" will give perching accommodations. But the question is will the birds be fooled by this elaborately counterfeit tree? We have seen some most elaborate and expensive bird houses empty year after year.

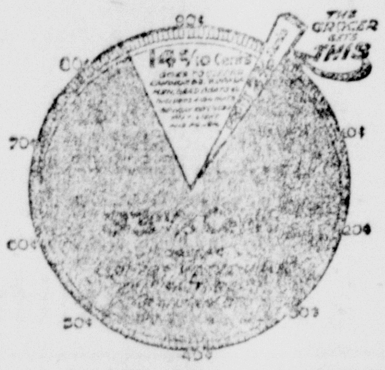
Your Grocer Is Not Profiteering



STATISTICS compiled by the Harvard University, covering 41 States, show that out of every dollar the grocer gets, he must first put aside 83 1/10 cents, the amount to be paid for the goods that cost the consumer $1.00.

Out of the balance, 14 6/10 cents, he must then pay clerks and operating expenses of his business.

This leaves the grocer only 2 3/10 cents profit. Surely this frees the grocer from the slightest possibility of profiteering.

It pays to deal with the following reliable grocers, for then you know you are getting full value for every dollar you spend.

Have you stopped to consider of how much importance your eyesight is to you?

How many employers are there who hire men with poor vision to do the best paid work?

You are not only working at a disadvantage for your employer but for yourself and family as well. AND THEY ALL "STOOD PAT"

While Mr. James Corbett, Who Had Manipulated the Deck, Sat Apart and Laughed.

In a club much frequented by men of the theatrical business, a poker game which began as a mere pastime grew, by degrees, to an undesirable intensiveness. The chaps who usually "sat in" were all friends and fellow laborers in a none-too-lucrative occupation. They agreed among themselves that there must be no more raising of the limit and no more reckless betting. The game must be one for amusement only. On the night when this agreement was solemnly concluded, they sat down and sent for the cards. Jim Corbett brought them. "I'll just sit and look on for a while," he said. "May take a hand a little later."

One man took the cards out of the box and threw around for a deal. The dealer shuffled them and passed them for the cut. Then he dealt a hand while the banker was giving each man his checks. The first man after the deal bet the limit. Every man of the seven around the table came in, each "filling" the pot for the limit.

"Say," said Corbett, "I thought you fellows were going to play light. That's a fine way to start out."

This evoked not even a response from the players. Each was sitting tight and covertly eying his neighbors. The dealer asked the first man how many cards he wanted. He stood pat. Every player around the board looked startled. Then the next man stood pat. And after him the next and finally all seven. It was at that moment that some one observed Mr. Corbett apparently about to choke in his secluded corner. Corbett had combined 25 per cent of four separate decks, so that the 52 cards he had handed the players were all spades. Each man had a pat flush when the betting began.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Not Sick Exactly, Just Seem To Have No Ambition

An Awful Feeling Seldom Necessary

Pepto-Mangan, The Red Blood Builder Does Away With Languor

If you don't feel like doing things you won't. If you wonder where some people get all their energy, the answer is from good food which in turn makes rich, red blood.

If your food does not give the nourishment and vigor it should, it is most likely that your blood is so weak that it needs a little extra help for a time to build it up to normal strength.

Thousands of men and women have been restored to vigorous health and lasting happiness by Gude's Pepto-Mangan. This beneficial blood tonic contains the very properties so vitally needed to improve the blood. Pepto-Mangan, if taken for a few weeks will enrich the blood and create thousands of the tiny red blood cells that are so necessary to carry nourishment and strength to every part of the body.

WASHINGTON IS MADE OVER CITY

CENSUS REPORT OF 407,000 POPULATION IS REMINDER—THE WAR'S EFFECT.

NEW VIGOR IN THE CAPITAL

Citizens Are Doing Things in a Bigger Way Than Ever Before—Many of Them Think They Should Be Enfranchised.

Washington.—The announcement by the bureau of the census the other day that Washington now has a population of 407,000 was a reminder that the world war made over the capital of the United States. With the declaration of war against Germany in April, 1917, the sleepy, slow-going, self-satisfied city by the Potomac began to take on new life, and that process continued until the old Washington disappeared, never to return. The activities of war put a vigor into the capital that it had never known before. Outsiders brought in the new spirit; the native inhabitants caught it and have retained it.

The capital is not an industrial city and unless there should be a revolution in sentiment among its people it never will be. To make it the ideal capital of the world is the ambition of its inhabitants. With the passing of war activities it is doing things in a bigger way than ever before. Its commercial bodies, the merchants' and manufacturers' associations, the board of trade and the chamber of commerce are developing into live bodies. Recently a city club with some 2,000 business and professional men as members has been organized, and promises to be another important factor in the new development.

Seek the Right to Vote.

Most of the local people still believe some obstacles to genuine progress exist. The denial of the ballot is regarded as one of the obstacles. Just now a very vigorous campaign in favor of legislation by congress that will confer the right of suffrage is being waged. According to the campaigners it is un-American that the men and women of legal age in the capital city of the land should be denied the right, or privilege to vote in that city. Congress listens attentively, but does not do anything on the subject. It should be said that not all the inhabitants of the District of Columbia join in the clamor for the vote; some of them are disposed to believe that, after all, the existing system of government through a board of commissioners appointed by the president is sound and satisfactory. But the agitation for the ballot—the right to choose the governing officers by direct vote—will go on, and it will be no surprise if congress yields one of these times.

The question of how the expense of running the District of Columbia government should be borne is a live one. It has been argued in many congresses and apparently is as far from settlement as ever. At present, and for a period running back many years, what is known as a "half and half" plan has been in force. Under this plan the federal government agrees to and does appropriate one dollar for the running expenses of the district for every dollar raised in the district by taxation. The house of representatives for several years has been voting to kill this arrangement, but the senate has thus far supported it successfully.

Theory of "Half and Half" Plan.

The arrangement was entered into on the theory that the capital city belonged to the whole country; that it was to be maintained as their pride and joy, and that, such being the fact, one-half of the expense of the capital city government should be paid from the general fund of the treasury department, a fund to which the whole country contributed. Another argument in favor of the plan is that the federal government actually owns most of the city parks, as well as the great public buildings. Of course if the existing plan is changed some new arrangement will have to be made under which the federal government would pay its proportionate share of the expense of local government.

The truth is that it is Washington's national character, and not its local character, that makes it what it is. Most persons who have been around here for a long time and have been in touch with things will tell you that frequently congress has failed to take the national view in dealing with the capital city; too often the inclination has been to look on Washington as a purely local city, something apart from the federal government. On the other hand the disposition among the legislators generally throughout a long period of years has been to take the big broad view, the view that this city belonged to the people of the United States and should be made a city of which they could always speak with pride. It is this spirit that has made Washington one of the beautiful cities of the world, and that has planned great things for it in the future.

Theory Upset.

"De Squalle has disproved one pet theory, anyway."

"What one, and how?"

"It is commonly believed that lemons are good for the voice, and his doesn't improve in the least, in spite of the fact that the critics hand him a lemon everywhere he goes."

Life will be less expensive when we stop trying to impress the neighbors.

TO PRESERVE OLD LANDMARK

Creation of National Monument Area Assures Security to Posterity of Famous Mullan Tree.

The Mullan tree, landmark of the old Mullan trail, the first highway connecting Montana and Idaho with the coast, will be preserved to posterity through the creation of a national monument area by the president.

On July 4, 1861, Capt. John Mullan, leader of the party having charge of the survey and construction of the Mullan trail from Walla Walla, Wash., to Fort Benton, Mont., closed his work at the connecting point of the roads from the east and west, at the head of the Fourth of July canon, between Wallace, Idaho, and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. There he marked appropriately a huge white-pine tree, which since that time has been known as the Mullan tree. Tourists seeking souvenirs of their jaunt along the Yellowstone trail have damaged the ancient tree so much that forest service officers have found it necessary to take steps to protect it, and, to accomplish this, have submitted a petition proposing that a national monument area be created, which has been approved.

When Paint Causes Wood to Warp

Coatings of equal moisture resistance should be applied to all surfaces of a wood product which would give dissatisfaction if it were to warp in service. Tests at the forest products laboratory, Madison, have shown that even when wood is properly kiln dried, no coating entirely prevents it from picking up or giving off moisture and, consequently, from swelling and shrinking under the influence of varying atmospheric conditions.

Varnish, shellac, and other moisture-resistant finishes merely decrease the rate at which the moisture changes in wood occur. The higher the grade and the more coats applied, the slower will be the moisture changes.

Unequal coatings on opposite surfaces of a wooden article cause unequal rates of change in moisture content and hence unequaled shrinkage on the two sides of the piece. The result is that the wood tends to cup or twist out of shape.

Depressing Personality.

"There comes Blithersby."

"I see him. Let's avoid him."

"Why?"

"He's the worst crepe hanger I know. Every time he hears me start to talk about buying a new motor car or taking a little trip to Florida or Cuba he wants to tell me how many babies die every day in Europe."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Does It Catch You in the Back?

It may be that you are mysteriously attacked by pain in back (lumbago), or limbs, "neuralgic" pains—shooting anywhere or swollen and painful feet. Pain and backache of any kind are often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, over-working the sick kidneys. Perhaps you have become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have headache or spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids and lack ambition to do things. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble is, take a single Anuric (anti-uric-acid) Tablet before each meal for a while, or until recovered. This is the most recent and most efficacious of discoveries for the kidneys.

Obtain Anuric at any drug store, or send ten cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package. Listen to this:

Delphos, Ohio:—"I saw an advertisement in the paper of Dr. Pierce's Anuric and sent for a trial package. I had doctored a good deal for ten years. I often took different kinds of medicine for kidney or bladder trouble which the doctor thought I might have. Well, I never got any better. Sometimes I would be disturbed 3 or 4 times at night. I had a soreness in my back and an awful weak back, so I wanted to see if the trial package would benefit me. I felt better from the first, so I went to the druggist and got a 60-cent package of the tablets and took all of them and never had any more trouble. After that I can say Anuric is just as recommended."—MRS. C. L. CRAMER, Route 1.

SESSION TO END ABOUT JUNE 1

LEADERS IN CONGRESS THINK NECESSARY WORK CAN BE CLOSED UP BY THEN.

SOME BIG TOPICS GO OVER

Lawmakers Hope to Learn People's Wishes as to Universal Military Training in the Fall Elections—Little Tariff Legislation Contemplated.

Washington.—The leaders in congress have now made definite plans for bringing this session to an end about June 1. They realize that it will require steady, hard work to accomplish this, but they believe, they say, that it can be done. A genuine sense of relief was noted when the railroad legislation was disposed of. The leaders feel that one of the most troublesome problems that confronted congress had been solved, though they admitted not solved to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. On the signing of the railroad bill by the president the leaders quickly reached the decision to work for a June 1 adjournment. If this program shall be carried out it will mean, of course, that the political party in control of congress will be willing to go into the fall elections on the legislative record of the special session of last year and the regular session of this year.

Some topics of large importance that earlier, were on the program for this session are to go over until after the election. Among these are universal military training, the disposition of the merchant marine now owned by the government, tariff changes, important immigration legislation, and probably legislation affecting the reds. The putting forward of such important subjects until the regular session that will begin on the first Monday in next December, of course lightens the burden of the present session materially.

Wish to Know Popular Mind.

In some instances subjects are to go over because the time for action does not appear to have arrived; in other instances there appears to be a general desire to have the people express themselves at the polls as to what shall be done. The question of universal military training, for instance, so puzzled leaders in the senate and in the house of representatives especially, that it was decided to defer action until after the presidential election, with the hope and expectation that in some way the legislators could get from the people next November an expression as to how they really felt on the question of the youth of the land being required to take a short period of training between the ages of eighteen and twenty-four.

Both the political parties as represented in the house got "cold feet" on the training question. First the Democrats held a caucus and decided to "lay off" universal training at this time, and then the Republican steering committee decided the Republicans would do well also to keep hands off the subject for the present. Finally the house committee on military affairs voted not to include a training provision in the military reorganization bill. No one seems to know just how the subject can be presented to the people in this campaign so as to obtain a test vote. Some of the candidates for president, it is noted, are already "shying" at the subject; but there is a growing feeling here that candidates for congress and for president will have to take a stand. It is, of course, for the people to say whether they want universal military training, and a way through which they can express their views certainly should be found.

Little Tariff Legislation.

It is now evident that there will be very little, if any, tariff legislation at this session. The senate has pigeonholed the "popgun" bills passed by the house during the special session. Even legislation for greater protection for dyes may not get through. A difference of opinion as to what such legislation should provide has arisen between the senate and house. Congress' inclinations with respect to immigration and the treatment of aliens who talk against the government of the United States have undergone many shifts during recent weeks. At present there is not much crystallization of opinion on either subject. If any distinct tendency is observable it is toward extreme conservatism. It seems settled, for instance, that nothing will be done that will materially check free speech. Attorney General Palmer now wants free speech stopped where it counsels force against the government. Legislation embodying that idea, or principle, may be enacted.

The appropriation bills will take much of the time between now and June 1. No great headway has been made with them thus far—headway in the open—though an enormous amount of inquiry has been going on. A little later a vital feature of the work of making appropriations will come up for consideration. It will have to do with the army and navy. Plainly the disposition is to skimp, so far as both these branches of the public service are concerned. The outcropping of this disposition is undoubtedly due to the alleged reaction that caused universal training to be put over.

REACHING FOR WORLD TRADE

Every Nation Wide Awake to the Possibilities That Have Opened, Following the Great War.

A more cosmopolitan document could hardly be imagined than the weekly list of trade chances which is nowadays gathered from all sources by the United States department of commerce, and published for the information of American business interests. An agency in Spain wishes to sell agricultural machinery and mechanical tops; a company in Egypt wishes to handle American cardboards and all kinds of paper; a firm in India is eager to come in contact with exporters of general merchandise; agriculturists in South Africa are interested in caterpillar tractors; a man in Switzerland would fain become an agent for yarns and fabrics; another in Belgium wishes to deal in food products; an engineer in Lettland would like to represent exporters of agricultural tools and automobiles, but perceives the wisdom of having more than one string to his bow, for he wants also an agency for the sale of lard. An interesting medley of commercial ambitions, with items that have already counted up to more than 1,500, the lists reveal how, all over the world, individuals and companies are hoping for opportunity to share in international trade.

Crown Dating From 1000 A. D.

The rumor, current in the European press some months ago, when the Bela Kun administration ruled in Hungary, that the Hungarian crown was to be sold, seems to have disappeared, and the later government apparently means to keep it. It was an odd circumstance, says a writer commenting on that rumor and its disappearance, that, with so much talk of discarded insignia of royalty, the one crown actually mentioned as being for sale should have been the most ancient one, with a single exception, in Europe. For whereas the German crown, for example, is comparatively modern, and was made no longer ago than 1871 for the former kaiser's grandfather, this crown of Hungary traces back, at least in legend, to the year 1000, and the sum of 100,000 Swiss marks, about $19,000, which, last summer, was circumstantially reported as the price for which it was to be sold, does not seem particularly exorbitant.

Song of 10,000 Lines Being Written for India's Pariah Water Drawers

An East Indian Water Drawer at His Primitive Well Pump, Which Has Not Been Improved Since the Days of the Pharaohs

Missionaries encounter strange problems in their work of spreading the doctrine of Christianity. But generally they are able to work out a good solution. Doctor Walter F. Scudder, for years a missionary of the Dutch Reform Church in India, but now attached to the Foreign Survey of the Interchurch World Movement, tells of one curious problem well solved.

For centuries the Pariah water drawer of India has measured the number of buckets of water he draws by means of a song of 10,000 lines. Unable to count, much less to add or subtract, the water drawer had to be given some method of measurement. So this song was adopted. It runs:

"Three Hundred and Thirty Million Gods have I,"
"Five Hundred Million Rishi have I,"

and so on for 10,000 variations.

The employer desiring a certain number of buckets to be drawn, tells the water drawer to stop his song at such a verse or line. The drawer pulls up one bucket for each line of the song and stops at the appointed place. He will have exactly the number wanted.

Now that many of these humble laborers of India have been converted to Christianity, they are faced by the problem of how to count without chanting a song which no longer represents their religious belief. So the missionaries are writing a song of 10,000 lines dealing with the life and teachings of Christ to be substituted for the chant now used.
